Call for Capacity Building Workshop in Abstract Writing
Lancet Palestinian Health Alliance (LPHA)
August 22 2013

In preparation for the upcoming Lancet Palestinian Health Alliance (LPHA) Fifth Conference, scheduled to take place in March 2014, the Institute of Community and Public Health (ICPH) is pleased to announce its call for a capacity building workshop in abstract writing.

The workshops will focus on abstract writing methods specifically geared towards the style of the international medical and public health journal, the Lancet.

The workshop takes place over a period of one day from 9:00 AM until 2:00 PM, on August 22nd, 2013.

The workshop will be held at ICPH, Birzeit University, Said Khoury Development Studies Building, 1st floor.

Upon completion of the first workshop, participants will be asked to write their abstracts in line with the Lancet specifications. The resulting abstract will then be presented by participants and commented on in a follow-up workshop tentatively scheduled to take place in mid-October.

The exact time and venue of the second workshop will be announced in due course.

Individuals wishing to participate in the capacity building workshops in abstract writing should submit the following:

1. A participation request email indicating:
   a. Full name
   b. Affiliation
   c. Place of residence
   d. Mobile telephone number

2. Participants are required to read all workshop material which will be sent to participants prior to the first workshop of August 22 2013

The deadline for applying for the workshops is August 15, 2013; the LPHA Conference Coordination Team will strictly abide by this deadline.

To submit your participation request and abstract, or for further information, please contact: The LPHA Conference Coordination Team at: lconference2013@gmail.com
